Britain faces a deep political crisis following the Referendum. Politics is moving right.

Racist and xenophobic abuse are on the rise.

Millions of us are resisting this turn to the right, opposing the wave of racism, defending free movement. Left Unity is part of that fight for an alternative: for a different vision of society – not confined to Britain, but embracing Europe, and beyond.

Migrants are not to blame for the problems facing Britain. It's the free market policies, privatisation and deregulation imposed by successive governments that have led to unemployment, poverty and homelessness. Migrants enrich our country, not take away from it. We welcome them and will expose the 'divide and rule' lies. We fight for the rights of all workers – wherever they come from.

The struggle will be hard, but we are not alone. Many parties, movements and trade unions across Europe share our vision of a peaceful, just and equal society – without discrimination. Working together will make progress possible. As we face the same problems, common action and shared strategies will make us more effective.

Left Unity is part of the European Left Party, founded in 2004, bringing together parties from over 20 countries. We may be leaving the EU but we remain part of Europe. Let's organise together, in solidarity, with workers and communities across Europe, linking our struggles for democracy, universal healthcare, housing, decent wages and trade union rights.

We invite all those who share our perspective, to join us, to work with us, as part of the European Left.
